City of Flensburg

Flensburg is a pleasant town with a charming harbour and a relaxed atmosphere. It's the third largest city in federal state of Schleswig-Holstein and is located less than 10 kilometres from the Danish border. More than 89000 inhabitants are currently living in Flensburg. Part of the city and its surrounding is the Flensburger Förde, a 50 kilometres long inlet of the Baltic Sea, which is marking the border between Denmark and Germany. Due to its close proximity to the Baltic Sea, Flensburg is surrounded by various beautiful beaches.

The town itself has a more than 700-year old history and is characterized by historical buildings, romantic lanes and traditional courtyards. In these courtyards visitors can find various restaurants, cafés, pubs, boutiques and ateliers.
